American Eagle Protective Services (AEPS) is a Texas based company founded and incorporated in 2002. We have performed superior security services, facilities maintenance, waste disposal, and technical training for government agencies and commercial entities alike for almost two decades. Licensed Security Company in 30 States and Washington, D.C.

AEPS continues to grow and excel by following the philosophy inspired by its founders to always provide the highest quality services to our federal and state clients; and doing so with an effective Management Team to adapt to the dynamic services marketplace.

AEPS employs approximately 1,500 security and maintenance personnel across the country and is the managing partner for two joint ventures.

Our corporate management teams are retired Law Enforcement professionals with the proper experience to provide our clients a culture of safety and security.
